Dedication

We, the class of 1953, proudly dedicate this book to Mr. W. R. Mackintosh in appreciation of his loyal service to our Vocational High School.

His engaging personality and fine direction will always be held in high regard by his students. He is also noted for his excellent coaching in sports as well as in the field of education.

We students are honored and proud to have so unforgettable a Director, Teacher, and Friend as Head of our School and we extend to him our best wishes for continued success and happiness. Our very best to you, Mr. Mack!

W. R. MACKINTOSH IS HONORED BY 325 AT HOTEL TESTIMONIAL

The heart of a grateful community opened itself wide last night in appreciation to William R. Mackintosh, New Bedford Vocational High director and coach, on the occasion of a testimonial in his honor in New Bedford Hotel Ballroom.

More than 325 persons taxed the capacity of the ballroom to pay homage to the beloved educator who recently was honored by having the new addition at the school named the William R. Mackintosh Building by the Board of Trustees.

State and city officials gathered at the festive board with alumni of the school, fellow teachers and friends in the spontaneous demonstration of affection for the genial Trade school head, known by most as just plain 'Mr. Mack.'

"You know, as a coach well knows, it's great to win, but tough to lose," remarked George L. Beach, vice-principal of New Bedford High, and principal speaker at last night's fete. "You're a fine guy when you win," he continued, "but when you lose; well, you're batted like a bouncing football by the Monday morning quarter-backs.

"But in all the years I've known Mr. Mack, he's been tops. Win or lose, he's a great guy."

The man who stepped off a train from Swampscott more than 30 years ago and proceeded to the old Industrial School at Cannon Street and Acushnet Avenue where he was to assume the position as head of the Electricity Department actually stole the after-dinner portion of the show.

"You've been wonderful to me tonight," the Trade school director said as he went on to trace from early years to his present day position as head of one of the finest schools of its kind in the East.

"I still like to get into the classrooms and teach," he continued, "because that way I can get close to the pupils and understand their likes and dislikes.

"In the midst of this wonderful occasion, however, I don't want to forget all those who've been so much of a help to me. Without their kind assistance, I wouldn't be before you tonight. I want my wife to come forward and enjoy this moment with me (at which point Mrs. Mack stepped forward to receive a kiss from her husband) for without her inspiration, I'd never be where I am today.

"I wish that my three little grandchildren could be here with me too. You know that grandson of mine (7 year old Warren Holt 2d) is going to grow up to be quite a boy. He's all of 95 pounds now, you know." He spoke with obvious pride of his daughter's oldest child.

"Yes, I have much to be thankful for," Mr. Mack went on. "Mayor Peirce, former Mayors Harriman and Ashley, the old aldermen, present members of the City Council and our school's Board of Trustees, they've all been so good to me it's been a pleasure working along with them."

In a voice choking with emotion, the genial Mackintosh continued saying "Tve got a grand wife, daughter, son-in-law, grandchildren, and faculty; so how could anyone miss under such favorable circumstances?"

There were many others who spoke glowingly in terms of Mr. Mackintosh's deeds in the field of education and athletics.

Dr. John J. Desmond, Jr., commissioner of education for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, spoke of the great service Mr. Mack has been to the city and State in the field of education.

"You have one of the finest schools in the East," Mr. Desmond said, "and you can thank Mr. Mackintosh for it.

Frank K. Sparling, presiding officer and chairman of the Board of Trustees, remarked, "Mr. Mackintosh is more than a principal and coach, he's a person whom I feel privileged to know."

Mr. Beach, who coached along with Mr. Mackintosh at New Bedford High more than 25 years ago, told many humorous tales of his association with his long-time friend. At the conclusion of his talk, the New Bedford High educator presented Mrs. Mackintosh with a bouquet of American Beauty roses and the honored guest with gifts.

Toastmaster for the testimonial was Z. Walter Janiak, head of the Academic Department at Vocational High, Dartmouth school committeeman and assistant coach to Mr. Mackintosh. He read a multitude of letters and telegrams from persons all over the country who added their congratulations to the occasion.

A Deserved Honor

"The decision of the trustees of New Bedford Vocational High School to name the new addition to its plant for Director William R. Mackintosh will meet general public approval.

Since Mr. Mackintosh became the head of the institution in 1918, its value in the educational facilities of the city has steadily increased. The efficiency shown in its development and the expansion of its curriculum to meet the needs of its pupils, have won for it recognition as the topranking school of its kind. It is a far cry from the original school established in 1906 in an old building on Water Street, to the commodious plant at the West End.

The scope of Vocational High School instruction has steadily widened and the hopes of its founders have been realized."

In Appreciation

Miss Mary E. Sheerin

We are most grateful to Miss Sheerin for her ever constant efforts to teach us the skills she knows so well. Her Twenty-six years of conscientious service have merited for her the gratitude of countless students. Miss Sheerin is self-effacing regarding her accomplishments as a teacher or as a citizen. But her many capabilities are apparent to all.

The Household Arts Faculty, we hear, grately appreciate her superb artistry as a raconteur, her profound common sense, and her innumerable, unostentatious acts of kindness.

We wish you continued success and happiness, Miss Sheerin, and we hope that your future years will be filled with contentment!

The Class Prophecy of 1953

May 1, 1963. We, the Senior Class of 1953, have been invited to go on a trip to South America, by that retired millionaire and Polish magnate, DEXTER CLOUGH. He polishes cars on the side. We gathered at the State Pier to prepare to leave and found that only one third of the class had shown up. Among these were JOE SPINDLER, admired star of all movie-going bobby-soxers. His usual bunch of teen-agers are around him. We turn and see RAYMOND BARTON, used car dealer just pulling in the driveway with his Model A Ford. Next we noticed that Professional Star of the All-American Women's Basketball Team, JOSEPHINE DEVLIN. Then to our right is JOHN MILLS, Head of the Auto Dept. at N. B. V. (he finally made it). ERNEST LAVOIE who didn't want to go because he was fishing for eels, was having bad luck, so he decided to join us. On approaching the ticket office we discovered to our dismay, that long lost genius of the concert piano, BRADFORD REED, selling tickets for two bucks a week at Joe's Pool Room. After a little chat and a broken arm we pulled him away from his job.

The most gracious Fleet Admiral JAMES KING, (he owns his own row boat) loaned us one of his battleships for the cruise. As we boarded; we were met by LT. COMMANDER WILLIAM JACKSON, a most accomplished and renowned slave driver.

On board we see RENE CHARBONNEAU, Heavyweight Wrestling Champ, known as "Two Ton Chabby" talking to his pal, AL FORGUE, now head instructor of the Carpentry Dept. Oh! there's SHIRLEY LANCASTER, Manager of Arlan's Dept. Store walking with ELIZABETH MILLER, PROFESSOR of Chemistry at Smith College. We now notice Mr. and Mrs. RAY DEGAGNER, RAY's the happy father of four children. On his right is a small group talking about old times and they are: ALFRED AUGER, who is now Manager of the Boston Red Sox in Boston and RAYMOND BARBERO, owner of the great chain of restaurants known as PIZZA PARADISE. Next to RAY is that high point scorer for the Boston Celtics, WILLIAM LYONS.

Just as the boat is getting under way, we hear the shouts of familiar voices. Of course it's SARAH SIRAVO, who has been driving her aunt's Packard around town, just arriving at the pier, with SYLVIA PAIVA, the first woman president of Boston Fruit Store. With the girls finally aboard, we are at last on our way.

We then took a tour of the boat, being led by EVERETTE "WOODY" WOOD, Seaman 2nd Class of the U. S. Navy, and EUGENIA CRUZ, CHIEF Petty Officer of the U. S. Waves.

On the bridge we are introduced to ADMIRAL NORMAN BLAKE, who is also a partner in North East Airlines. Next to him is GENERAL ROBERT BROOKS of the U. S. Army. And here comes JEANNE THOM-

ASSETTE, owner of JEANIE'S BEAUTY SALON. LT. ALIDA RICHARD of the Waves is talking very confidentially to her (good friend??) ROBERT DOBIJA, owner of DOBIJA'S Electrical Service and Supply. As we are walking up to the main deck we see LEON CREMONINI looking under everything for the level he has lost and JAMES BROWNELL helping him out, still collecting tools for his tool box.

As we move along the deck, we meet some important celebrities. Among those are RAY BURGO, star of stage and screen, and JUDY JOR-DAN and PAULINE DARMOFAL famous New York Cover Girl's for Vogue Magazine, sitting on lounge chairs. Next to JUDY is that well known Hollywood shoe model, CLAIRE PARE, showing some friends her black and vellow and blue shoes. We are now being led below deck where ALFRED GALLAGHER, radio and sonar expert is working. Without him we wouldn't be this far. Working like a mad dog (bow-wow) is FRANK HODSON fixing the ship's telephone from Mr. Maki's notes. As we are leaving the radio room we meet the Foreign Correspondent and World renowned Disc Jockev for WBSM, GILBERT CANTO. We hear a sharp tapping and much to our surprise we see SEAMAN DONALD CHAUSSE, expert tin knocker, making tin cups for the galley. We are next shown the boiler room where we meet RUSSELL WORSELY, Chief Steam Engineer giving orders to BOB BACH, who just graduated "Class of '62", sorting out hard coal from soft coal. As we enter the engine room we see PAUL PECKHAM, noted race driver trying to hop up the ship's engine. Trying very hard to help him is VERA ROSOLKO, now an Instructor at Textile Institute. JAMES GRUNDY is still pumping gas in the corner. After the tour below, we all head for the dining room.

When we enter, EARL DEMORANVILLE is conducting the Boston Pops Orchestra. As we are seated at our tables, and our orders are taken, the Master of Ceremonies came out onto the floor, WILLIAM STEWART, he is also well known Barker for the Ringling Bros. Circus. He first introduced ALLEN FORTES, the Heavyweight Champion of the World, CHARLES RUCKER, FULL-Back for the Los Angeles Rams, and Butch Silva ALL-American from Oklahoma State. His last introduction is the world's greatest Woman Baseball player, JEANNE QUINTIN.

We eat a wonderful meal and then are ready for the entertainment we have been promised. The first act on the show was JANE BILSBORROW who modeled elevated shoes. We then heard FRANK REALE, General Contractor, give a couple of tunes on his accordion. That well known Metropolitan Opera Star MARGUERITE ALFERES singing "My Buddy". Doesn't it bring back memories????? After a terrific comedy act by DONALD ALMEIDA we heard an amazing lecture by PAUL LYNAM, Union Leader, on a subject he is not well known for — Work.

The ship's whistle blew and we knew we would soon reach our destination, Rio De Janeiro. We saw MERTON HARTLEY, Speed Boat Champ, circling our ship. RITA SOUZA, Manager of Woolworth's with her good friends, BLANCHE SOUZA, famous hairdresser styling her new hairdo, "The Blanche Bubble", and IRENE TALBOT, famed figure skater throwing silver dollars into the water where divers were waiting. One is TONY PEDROS, collecting money for his bank, still trying to pay the Machine Shop dues.

The crew bade us farewell, and we were greeted by our chaperone RICHARD CAVALHO, who owns a large ranch, here in South America. We then got into a Stanley Steamer, driven by HENRY HAINAULT, famous stock car driver, and RICHARD VICKERY, in his green and white trailer truck. Before reaching our destination we stopped at ALBERT LOWE'S Garage; he deals in foreign cars. Working there in the welding Dept. is NORMAN BURGO, and cleaning parts for the Chrysler Engines was ERNEST MEDEIROS.

After a pleasant stroll thru the garage we notice NORMAN PERRY-MAN along the roadside painting a beautiful picture of a chimpanzee. On our way we were passed by ROLAND LEWIS, at last driving a truck for the City Cleaning Dept.

While traveling along, we notice a familiar name in bright lights along the roadside. When we approached the big letters spelled Crompton's Heaven Day Nursery, Prop. CAROL CROMPTON. As we went inside, we were greeted by JOAN CONQUEST, the happy Mrs. Chase. Finally leaving the joint (no bad feelings, Carol) we were on our way.

We were really amazed at Clough's beautiful shack, when we arrived. We were greeted by BOB NUNES, retired millionaire. After eating and gabbing about old times, we all turned in for a good night's sleep.

After a terrific breakfast of cocoanuts served by the butler, STANLEY JOHANSEN, we started on our trip. We were led by CLIFTON VAUGHAN, Big Game Hunter and MITCHELL MILOS, explorer and scout of steel nerves, silent but deadly. We were greatly amazed at the beautiful scenery and different animals. Of course we brought nurses on the trip in case of accidents. These were DORIS ENGLAND, one of the nurses on Jerry Lewis's Staff and her assistant, PHYLLIS TONGE. After traveling many miles we came upon JOSEPH BAPTISTE'S Health Farm. We were very much surprised to see FRANK WARRINGTON, who is Mr. Mack's Asst. Coach, recuperating after a strenuous season of 69 victories and no defeats. Just then BOB LISTER pulled in the driveway with a flashy new Cadillac, bought with all the money he saved at school. He came to Brazil to spend it, (the micawber).

After a few days at the Farm, we next proceeded to a small village where our journey was to come to an end. When we arrived, the Mayor, JAMES ASHWORTH, a man of many words, greeted us with the key to the City.

After eating a quick snack of avocados, we visited the village beauty salon, which was owned by GENEVIEVE DALUZ, who by the way, owns a chain of Beauty Salons in the surrounding towns. Seated in the salon was CLAIRE ROUSELLE, now partowner of Aerovox Corp. The next chair was taken by MARILYN RICHARDS, well known Sports Manager of the All Girls Basketball Team of South America. When we approached the back of the shop, NORMAN GAUVIN, a Supervisor at Cornell Dubilier was getting a Toni permanent wave, by that expert hairdresser ROGER GALLO. As we left the salon, we were greeted by CLAIRE AUGER famous dress designer and LORRAINE PEREIRA, recently voted the best Homemaker of 1963, going in for a shampoo. As we continued thru the village we visited Ethel's Dressmaking Shop operated by ETHEL MANCHESTER. Waiting in the store was VIVIAN "BLUE EYES" TETREAULT, Social Worker in New York. As we continued thru the village we visited the home of THOMAS SHARPLES, living happily with his wife and children.

After a few hours of walking we were interrupted by a messenger, the well known AL PORTER, Track Star, training for the Pan-American Olympics. He handed us a message which read for us to meet at the Rio De Janeiro Airport, where we will get passage home. We gathered our packs and headed for the airport.

Arriving at the airport we were greeted by TONY DeMELLO commercial pilot, who was delighted at seeing old classmates. When we boarded the plane we came upon GIL PHILLIPS, Editor of the Standard-Times, returning home after a vacation, and ROLAND CORREIA, who was going to Egypt, where he can have as many wives as he wants. Also seated in front was ERNA SPENCE a dress designer for Saks — Fifth Avenue. Our hostess aboard the plane was Col. SHIRLEY LOPES, high ranking officer of the W. A. F. Just then JOAN PARKIN a famous veterinarian came aboard with her pet gorilla called "Joany".

Having a good time reading a joke book is ROLAND LABOSSIERE. It was written by the comedienne EVA CHACE, who is sitting beside him, laughing her head off. Eva is on Red Skelton's writing staff now.

As our plane is ready to take off, we heard screams and saw ELLENA BRIGHTMAN, Public Relations Expert, pulling MADELINE COSTA away from the wings where she had been examining the screws. EVERETT "SHORT CIRCUIT" DUGAN, Wiring Inspector of New York City, is inspecting the wiring in the plane for defects. You know how it is when you're trade happy.

It has been great meeting our old pals again. As we go into the wild blue yonder, we look back over our trip and remember the wonderful help and teaching we received from the faculty at New Bedford Vocational High School.
